Going Up?

Latest enrollment count for the 1958-59 school year stands at about 533 full-time upperclass students, 379 freshmen and 14 part-time, which brings enrollment past the 900 mark.

Summer Marks Rapid Expansion, Campus Growth

Even as Wartburg students anticipated returning to school this fall, Wartburg College anticipated the return of students. Throughout the summer a program of campus expansion and improvement was carried out.

Biggest job, according to Herb Engelhrecht, assistant to the president, was the completion of Clinton Hall, new men's dormitory. Flooring, fixtures and furniture were installed throughout the summer.

Clinton Full

Although figures are not final, hetween 100 and 124 boys are lodged in Clinton Hall, according to Housemother Mrs. Augusta Allenstein. Except for some lounge furniture, the dormitory facilities are complete.

Wartburg's present huilding project, the new library, will probably gain its roof by next week. Plans call for the completion of the building before the end of the school year.

"Library progress has been moving very rapidly," commented Engelbrecht. "There have been few hold-ups in construction."

Plans for the new $300,000 chapel-auditorium are nearing completion. Contracts for the addition will probably be let late this fall, according to Engelbrecht.

Painting Done

In addition to the new huildings, work was done on many of the old ones. Painting the interiors of Wartburg and Grossmann Halls and the exteriors of some off-campus housing units and the stadium was one of the projects. Scoreboards purchased with Student Body Project funds were installed in Knights Gymnasium. New office space was eked out of Old Main and the Little Theater.

Drainage and water systems were installed in the new trailer court, which will be ready for occupancy next spring. Construction of a parking lot west of the tennis courts was hegun. The two clay tennis courts are heing hlacktopped.

BUTTON, BUTTON . . . .

Green Is Busting Out All Over

By Joan Pape

Help!

If ever the year for a freshman revolt has existed, this is it, as figures from the registrar's office revealed Thursday that freshman students comprise better than 40 per cent of the student body this year. Sophomores, beware!

But in spite of their large numhers, freshman students were once again meekly bowing to the orders of the upperclassmen this week. On Wednesday, a strangely spring-like green was pervading the fall campus, as heanies of that color became the fashion in headgear.

With upperclassmen insisting that initiation is "for the good of the student," regulations on the frosh became military strict, causing one unidentified boy to remark plaintively, "I might as well have joined the Army, after all."

A grizzly prospect was in sight for Warthuurg, as shaving and hair trimming for the boys was ruled out completely. This may make those two required dates with upper-class girls slightly more difficult.

A little work was also in order, freshmen discovered, with one night of work in the cafeteria in store for them. This morning also found them donning their work clothes, as the All Freshman Work and Play Day hegan.

Most of the new collegians didn't find their lot too oppressive, however.

Francis Schmidthuber, freshman boy from Emmons, Minn., summed up the opinions of most by remarking, "It isn't too bad."

Mary Jean Plueger of Scotch Grove and Judy Rohinson of Reinheck seemed to agree, anyway.

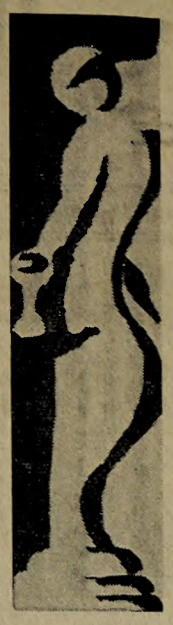
"It's really more fun than anything else," Mary Jean remarked.

"We expected it would he much worse," Judy added.

Perhaps the reason for this light-heartedness may he found in the perennial motto of all frosh: "Just wait till next year!"

HOLD ON TO YOUR HAT and pronounce it three times, "I am a poor miserable freshman, a lowly servant of the noble sophomore class." With September tradition, a new group of freshmen are indoctrinated in the art of buttoning by past masters of the beanies, sophomores.

Once Again - - September!



September is many things, both old and new, intermingled as one.

The lame, halt, blind days of summer hobble around some Waverly corner with white canes of ambition, running headlong into September. A slumbering Wartburg College awakens from half-sleep to greet the new and old occupants of another college year.

September becomes a Janus, seeing old and new things in sudden succession. A new school year begins only with summer memories motivating the steps of new progress.

For new students, September is a marked step to the future, while behind them is a great gap and ever-widening circle of life.

September is a contrast. Around us can be seen football cleats digging into soft turf, sun-tanned students shuttled into rooms, brown leaves falling on green grass and summer blue skies over cold winds.

September leads us into a college year with force, driving us with sudden changes and sleepless nights of anticipation. September tears up loose roots of failure. Without this new spirit of September, we might have drifted into winter with summer minds and without progression.

Has September found us awake or asleep? How shall we respond to this new life? We must react with force or fail.

Knight Life

By Don Claggett

Welcome, Frosh!

Logical theme for the first Knight Life column would be freshman initiation. However, to this columnist (I use the term loosely) it seems that such a theme would be more embarrassing than humorous, since I find that I am the only sophomore among wearers of the green in half of my classes. So, frosh, good luck in your arduous task of living through the first four weeks of Squire Daze.

At midnight the doors of Clinton were pulled shut by new housemother, Mrs. Allenstein, leaving Doug looking in from the outside. FOOTNOTES TO FAITH

Make Room For Faith In Busy College Life

By Julius Roehl

In the midst of all our concern over preparing for another year of classes here at Wartburg, I wonder if we may have forgotten something.

We may say, "I brought my best clothing, my new automobile, and my checkbook to school this year. As soon as I get registered I'll be all set for classes." These are all important details for us to remember, but have we forgotten to bring our faith along to college with us? For as God commanded, "My son, do not forget my teaching, but let your heart keep my commandments."

Roehl

After leaving our Christian homes where we attended church services regularly, we are again invited to participate in all the religious functions connected with our college.

Have we, as upperclassmen, forgotten to attend evening chapel services, to attend church services at St. Paul's, to participate in Bible Discussion Groups and to take an active part in some of the campus religious organizations such as Mission Fellowship, LSA, Phebes and Chi Rho? Have you, as freshmen, been a bit lax in your chapel attendance and irregular in your church attendance?

Will we continue to forget about Christ and His teachings as the school year progresses? All of us are very busy, but none of us can say that we are too busy to take a little time to attend chapel services or to spend a few minutes in private meditation in the Danforth Chapel.

We have all tbe opportunities to continue in close communion with our God. Why not make use of them and bring our faith to college? Better yet, let us try to strengthen and deepen our faith here at Wartburg in the coming scholastic year.

The President Speaks

A MESSAGE FROM DR. C. H. BECKER

Greetings and welcome to all our former students! We're happy to see you back at Wartburg for the second, the third or perhaps the final year.

We greet and welcome the new students who are with us for the first time. We are glad that you have chosen Wartburg as your college. You will find Wartburg and Waverly to be a friendly community.

It is our hope and our prayer that for all of you this year at Wartburg College will be both enjoyable and beneficial.

We of the faculty and staff pledge ourselves to assist you in every way we can that you may grow into the full stature of men and women of God, so that when you finally leave Wartburg College you may be well equipped to occupy the positions in life to which you will be called.

Once again we can begin the school year with increased physical facilities. As many as 120 men are housed in our new Clinton Hall. Library construction is well along. We plan to be in the new library before the end of the present school year. Plans for the new chapel-auditorium are almost completed.

An enlarged and unusually well-qualified faculty and staff is ready to serve you.

With God's help let us determine to make this the best year in the history of our college.

Good luck, much success and God bless you!

Grid Opener Next Saturday

Powerful Knights Host Norsemen In Loop Trial

By Don Claggett

Eyes of the Iowa Conference will be focused on Schield Stadium Saturday, Sept. 20, when head football coach Norm Johansen sports his 1958 Knight attack against top-ranking Luther College of Decorah.

A win for Wartburg against perennial conference favorite Luther in the season's opener could mean a conference championship for the Jomen, according to present forecasts.

Squad Starts Early

Excellent material and an earlier practice start are the Knights' pre-season strong points. Fifteen lettermen reported one week before official school opening for twice daily practice sessions.

Coach Johansen says, "We are not as deep as we would like, but we will be rebuilding with several newcomers who look promising."

Frosh Will Help

Newcomers include many who played on successful prep squads. From Waverly, end Bob Mueller and halfback Darwin Bunger have graduated to new local heights on the gridiron. Mueller has also been working out with veteran kicker Wayne Dreier and may be called upon to use his toe.

Bob Niemann, halfback from Charles City, 180-pound guard Don Sowers and 210-pound tackle Larry Leyh from Sumner, a team which hasn't lost a tilt in two seasons, are expected to see action this fall.

Junkman Stands Out

Another former all-conference prep, now a Wartburg freshman, is highly rated fullback Lowell Junkman of Manson. In addition to these strong freshmen, transfer student John Hugo from Waldorf Junior College is expected to bolster the Knight forces.

Fifteen returning lettermen will form the nucleus of Johansen's split T squad. Included in this list of vets is senior center Jack Reents of Adams, Neb., returning from two years' volunteer duty as a mission builder in New Guinea.

Arjes Rejoins Linemen

Sophomore letterman Jim Arjes, returning after a tour of military service, is expected to fill the hole left by graduating ace, Arnie Brandt. Other veteran linemen include Leon Knitt senior from Bear Creek, Wis., and Larry Collmann, sophomore from Manson.

Guards Don Sahling, junior from Chicago, Ill., and Arjes, along with tackles Reents, Charles Walling, Gaylord, Wis., sophomore, and Ron Kruger, Waupun, Wis., junior, will round out the line attack for the Knights.

Shines In Dakota

Bill Bomhoff, 1957 graduate of Wartburg and first four-year letterman in the history of the college, was recently named most outstanding player in South Dakota State semi-pro baseball tournament.

Langrock Adds M.A.

Miss Adeline Langrock, Physical Education Department, received her M. A. degree at Colorado State Teachers College, Greeley, this summer. She attended the spring quarter and summer session there.

A native of Cedar Falls, Miss Langrock earned her B. A. at Iowa State Teachers College, Cedar Falls. She joined the Wartburg faculty in 1949.

Picking Up Splinters

By Wilbur Flachman

Someone jumped the gun! All summer we planned a column that would convince the Iowa Conference that the Knights are the team to beat in the loop this fall. Then before we could get our tab to press, Iowa college coaches take a sketch of league teams and concede that Norm Johansen and his boys will be pretty tough. So the job is done.

★ ★ ★

Even Luther coach Edsel Schweizer, who had nearly seventy men out for practice (of which 17 were lettermen off last year's Iowa Conference champs), is tossing in the towel already. He puts Jo and his boys in a class by themselves, claiming his Norse will have to fight for second.

That gives you some idea of the potential of the 1958 Knight football squad. Jo has 16 lettermen of his own back, with some highly talented freshmen to help out. The schedule this season favors the Knights somewhat as they play Luther, Upper Iowa and Iowa Wesleyan, three of their toughest foes, at home.

However, Coach Johansen is tight-lipped about the immediate season. Already he has lost Denny (The Toe) Krominga, sophomore letterman, whose precision place-kicking was being counted as an integral part of the Black and Orange attack this year. Krominga gave up football on the advice of his doctor.

Luther, despite the pessimism of Schweizer, should still be on a par with last season's loop champs. The Vikings reportedly are weaker in the line, but will have a faster backfield that includes bruising Brad Hustad, the leading ground gainer in the U.S. last season. (Hustad's father writes Luther College a $100 check every time Brad crosses the goal-line. Knight linemen are determined to make the old man keep his pen in his pocket next week.)

★ ★ ★

Since new things seem to be the trend on campus, we are going to try something new this fall. After each game a panel will pick the lineman of the week because we feel (along with Don Sahling) that that job isn't appreciated enough. The panel will include Coaches Campbell, Fruehling and Johansen, PR man Duane Schroeder, KWAR announcer Nolan Cramer and this writer.

★ ★ ★

Cross-country running under dual-duty Bob Campbell will begin its third year in the Wartburg athletic program. Campbell has one returning letterman in Gary Moody, junior from Cheboygan, Mich. Eight other candidates are working out daily.

★ ★ ★

IM flag football season will get under way the first part of this week. Dave Jensen, head of this year's program, announced that sign-up sheets are up in the dorms for squad rosters. Dave has a complete and organized program lined up for the whole year. A special invitation is extended to the freshmen to jump into action and find out the benefits and fun derived from this inexpensive campus offering.

JUNE RIDE?

Choir Anticipates European Tour

By Grace Jahn

Alarm clocks will ring early on June 2, 1959, and 60 eager musicians will bounce from their beds.

After months of dreaming, hoping and saving their pennies, Wartburg Choir members will eagerly await departure of their chartered bus to New York City and the KLM Royal Dutch Airlines plane bound for Europe.

After years of building the reputation of the Choir until it is now considered one of the best in the country, Dr. Edwin Liemohn, director of the group, received a letter last February from Friedrich Hofmann, president of the German group for church choirs, suggesting that the director try to extend that reputation to include Europe.

Regents Approve

Last June the Board of Regents approved detailed plans for the tour submitted by Dr. Liemobn, and the dream that began last February fast became a reality.

Definite plans now consist of stops in Holland, England and West Germany. The Cboir's concert stops are being arranged by the Dutch Lutheran Movement for Churcb Music; "Verband Evangelischer Kirchenchoere Deutschlands," a national German organization for church cboirs; and the Rev. Lloyd Swantz in England.

Lodging Provided

Cboir members will have the opportunity to become well acquainted with the people of Holland and England, for the members of Lutheran congregations in those countries will provide lodging for tbe singers.

History book locations will come to life as the choir members will manage some sightseeing in Paris and take various side trips.

After tbe month-long tour of singing and seeing, the much-traveled Wartburg Choir will return to mornings and alarm clock rings not quite so exciting as that day in June, 1959.

DR. EDWIN LIEMOHN, Wartburg Choir's famed director, ponders plans for next summer's first European concert tour of any Wartburg organization.

Convos Feature Gov't, Gridiron

First regular convo Tuesday at 10 a.m. will be presided over by Student Body President Jim Schwarz. He will introduce his vice president, Herb Hafermann, and Student Body secretary, Lois Fritschel.

Also included at Tuesday's convo will be plans for Homecoming and Kastle Kapers.

Thursday's convo will be held at Schield Stadium, where the Athletic Department will preview the football team. Rule changes and new plays will be included to acquaint and interest students in the game and the team.

Wartburg Thespians Begin Fall Schedule

Plans for opening the college theater season will be announced at the initial meeting of Wartburg Players Thursday, Sept. 18, by theater director, Vernon Lestrud.

Director Lestrud plans a play writing contest open to all Iowa college and university students. The top three plays judged in the contest will be presented on the Little Theater stage next spring.
